

CHICAGO SPACES

INSPIRING INTERIORS

BY JAN PARR AND THE EDITORS OF
CHICAGO HOME + GARDEN MAGAZINE

FOREWORD BY NATE BERKUS

OPPOSITE This condo in the Montgomery Ward building has a fantastic open feeling that was achieved by architect Patrizio Fradiani's decision to remove any walls that would have prevented natural light from pouring in through the floor-to-ceiling windows that make up one side. One large, bold painting (by Jackie Tileston) carries the entire room.

ABOVE The modern furnishings the homeowners have collected over the years, including a Capellini coffee table and custom Jonathan Adler pillows, are stylish yet durable enough to withstand child's play. Graphic splashes of color create movement in the space.

ABOVE The dining-area light fixture, custom-designed by architect Patrizio Fradiani from individual pendant lights, adds a sculptural element to family dinners in this home. An original piece of art painted by a friend of the family appears to be entirely abstract at first glance, but on closer inspection, it turns out to depict a woman baking blueberry muffins.

OPPOSITE In the dining room of designer Sean Cowan, a sofa and low-profile modern chairs surround a traditional flame mahogany table; overhead, a light fixture with an oversize white shade makes a bold statement.